PROGRAM	DESCRIPTION	OTHER INFORMATION
1. Temporary Aid for Workers Program (PATT)	The Ministère du Travail, de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale offered the temporary assistance program to workers who were temporarily unable to earn their usual work income and were ineligible for another government financial assistance program, compensation from their employer, or private insurance benefits. The financial assistance totalled $573 a week for 14 days of self-isolation with the possibility of extending it for 28 days in the case of individuals who were in contact with the virus. Accordingly, eligible workers were entitled to a lump sum paid by the Red Cross of $1 146 per 14-day period, up to a maximum of 28 days. To have benefited from the programs, workers must be 18 years of age and over, reside in Québec, and have been in isolation for one of the following reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · they contracted the virus or displayed symptoms; · they were in contact with an infected individual; · they returned from abroad. The Government of Canada, the Québec government, or another responsible entity had to order the request for isolation.	The normative framework of the PATT stipulates that the program commences on March 16, 2020 and ends when the Minister announces the conclusion of the program. According to Revenu Québec, financial assistance under the PATT is not taxable. The PATT ended on Friday, April 10, 2020 at 4 p.m., as the Minister of Labour, Employment and Social Solidarity announced in a press release* disseminated on April 8, 2020. The decision was made in the wake of the implementation of the Canada Emergency Response Benefit on April 6, 2020.  www.quebec.ca/en/family-and-support-for-individuals/financial-assistance/temporary-aid-for-workers-program/
2. Incentive Program to Retain Essential Workers (IPREW)	The taxable benefit of $100 per week, paid retroactive to March 15, 2020 for a maximum of 16 weeks, is offered to full- or part-time essential workers who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · work in what is deemed priority sector during the period specified; · earn a gross weekly wage of $550 or less; · earn annual work income of at least $5 000 and total annual income of $28 600 or less, excluding the benefit; · are at least 15 years of age; · were residing in Québec on December 31, 2019 and plan to reside there throughout 2020. For each week of eligible work, the worker must not have received any amount pertaining to the Canada Emergency Response Benefit or the Temporary Aid for Workers Program (PATT).	The first payment will be made on May 27, 2020 and will cover the period from March 15 to March 23, 2020, and may reach $1 000. Subsequent payments of $200 will be made every two weeks. The maximum duration of the IPREW is 16 weeks. It is offered from March 15 to July 4, 2020. Online applications can be submitted starting on May 19, 2020, until November 15, 2020 on the Revenu Québec website by registering on the “My Account for Individuals” portal. The benefit paid under the IPREW is taxable.  www.revenuquebec.ca/en/press-room/news/details/167331/2020-04-03/

14. Flexibility measures concerning the administrative management of supplemental pension plans	Three temporary flexibility measures are being implemented to help the administrators of supplemental pension plans and the plans' participants: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the extension, until September 30, of deadlines related to certain regulatory and legislative obligations; • updating of the level of creditworthiness that must be considered in the case of payments (transfers and refunds) made in defined-benefit pension plans; • the relaxation of disbursement rules concerning funds tied up in life income funds. Accordingly, it is possible to disburse a single amount of the funds accumulated in an LIF corresponding to 40% of the maximum pensionable earnings, that is, $23 480 in 2020, regardless of income from other sources. 	These measures reduce the administrative burden related to pension plans and facilitate easier access by participants to their retirement savings. However, they do not remove the employers' obligation to pay the stipulated contributions to the plan.  www.retraitequebec.gouv.qc.ca/en/faq/covid-19/Pages/covid-19.aspx

17. Bonuses for health care workers working full time to fight the virus	The Québec government is increasing staff compensation to encourage full-time work and promote the retention of health care workers. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> employees who will be working full-time in CHSLDs will receive $100 per week. There will also be additional bonuses for those who will be working full-time in an infected CHSLD, that is, $200 more after 2 consecutive weeks and $400 more after 4 consecutive weeks. Therefore, bonuses of up to $1 000 per month will be offered; the same monetary measures will also be applied, under the same conditions, in some twenty hospital centres designated “hot zones” in the Greater Montréal area, but only for the following job categories: clinical and auxiliary nursing personnel, respiratory therapists, orderlies, health and social services auxiliaries, patient service aides and maintenance workers. Nearly $70 million per month will be granted for these additional bonuses.	To ensure fairness, subsidies will be paid to intermediate and family-type resources (IR-FTR) as well as private CHSLDs so that these housing environments can offer the same bonuses to their staff. Seniors’ residences will also receive a subsidy to enable them to offer the same bonuses to their staff working in “hot zones”. In addition, the government is proposing a new measure for all employees in the health and social services network who would agree to transfer temporarily from their region to the Montréal, Laval or Montérégie regions, which are considered “hot zones”, in order to lend a hand. These employees will receive $2 000 per month, which could be in addition to the other bonuses.  www.fil-information.gouv.qc.ca/Pages/Article.aspx?motsCles=&listeThe=&listeReg=&listeDiff=&type=&dateDebut=2020-05-07&dateFin=2020-05-07&afficherResultats=oui&idArticle=2805079605 *
